- Friends from the Media,
- Ladies and Gentlemen,

Namaskar and a very good morning to all of you,

- I would like to extend my sincere gratitude on this significant occasion, as we gather here for the 37th CACCI Conference. This momentous event has brought together an illustrious assembly of business leaders, distinguished delegates, and generous sponsors from across the Asia-Pacific region, rendering it an occasion of remarkable importance.
- Our conference, held under the theme "Chambers of Commerce - Helping Businesses Get SET for the Future," has been a journey marked by collaboration and the sharing of knowledge. It is a testament to the power of regional integration, particularly in these challenging times when the economies of many nations have been severely impacted. The relevance of this conference in uniting us to discuss, strategize, and form meaningful partnerships cannot be overstated.
- I would like to express my deep gratitude to all the dignitaries, esteemed guests, and the esteemed delegates gracing us with their presence today. Your participation elevates the significance of this conference. Your collective wisdom, insights, and experiences are invaluable, and they promise to lead to profound discussions and collaborations that can reshape the future of businesses in our region.

- I would like to acknowledge the exceptional leadership of Mr. Pradeep Kumar Shrestha, the former President of FNCCI and current Vice President of CACCI, as well as Mr. Peter McMullin, the President of CACCI from Australia. Their unwavering dedication and visionary foresight have been instrumental in bringing this significant event to Nepal. Their tireless efforts in promoting collaboration between nations and businesses are truly commendable.
- To our distinguished guests and delegates who have traveled from distant corners of the globe, I extend our sincere appreciation. Your presence enriches the discussions and adds to the spirit of international collaboration. We trust that this conference will equip you with insights, connections, and knowledge that will serve as a solid foundation for future partnerships and endeavors.
- I am also thankful to our sponsors for their invaluable support. Their commitment to this event has made it possible, and we are deeply grateful for their generosity and belief in the vision of this conference. Your contributions have played a pivotal role in bringing together delegates and experts from diverse sectors, allowing us to collectively explore new avenues for growth and development.

- And at last I would like to express my thanks to our entire FNCCI team, specially our Director-General and the Secretariat team and the team from the event management. These individuals have worked tirelessly behind the scenes, meticulously planning and ensuring the success of this event. Their commitment and diligence have been instrumental in orchestrating a seamless and productive conference.
- As we delve into the plenary sessions and B2B matchmaking opportunities that follow, I encourage all of you to actively engage, share your expertise, and explore avenues for collaboration. The themes of these sessions have been carefully chosen to address critical aspects of our region's economic and social development. Your active participation will undoubtedly serve as a catalyst for progress.
- In closing, it is essential to recognize that this event embodies the power of unity, collaboration, and a shared vision for a brighter and more prosperous future. Let us seize the knowledge and connections we gain here to make a lasting impact on our economies and communities. Together, we can set a course for a future that benefits us all.

- Once again, my sincere thanks to the entire team that has worked diligently to make this event possible. Let us cherish the moments that lie ahead, learn from one another, and work together to shape a better future for the Asia-Pacific region.

With these sentiments, I express our gratitude and look forward to a highly successful 37th CACCI Conference.

Thank you.
